Editorial

Another busy month has passed, first the Orange Blossom Festival at Baulkham Hills on Saturday 16th September 2007. This was a mixed club car display day and was well attended, Jason Birmingham's immaculate Hairy Lime P76 created a great deal of interest.

The BMC Leyland Australia Heritage Group's reunion luncheon day at The Rocks in Sydney was terrific, Kay De Luca who organised the day, was also the MC and must be congratulated for her great effort.

Anne Stewart the marketing and community relations centre, Castle Hill, has been in touch with the Club and has invited our club to display four Leyland P76's on Saturday 10th November 2007 and has also informed us that Barry Anderson ex BMC Leyland employee will be the guest speaker. Then we will be given the tour of the car collection (cost for the tour will be $10 per person). This should be a top day.

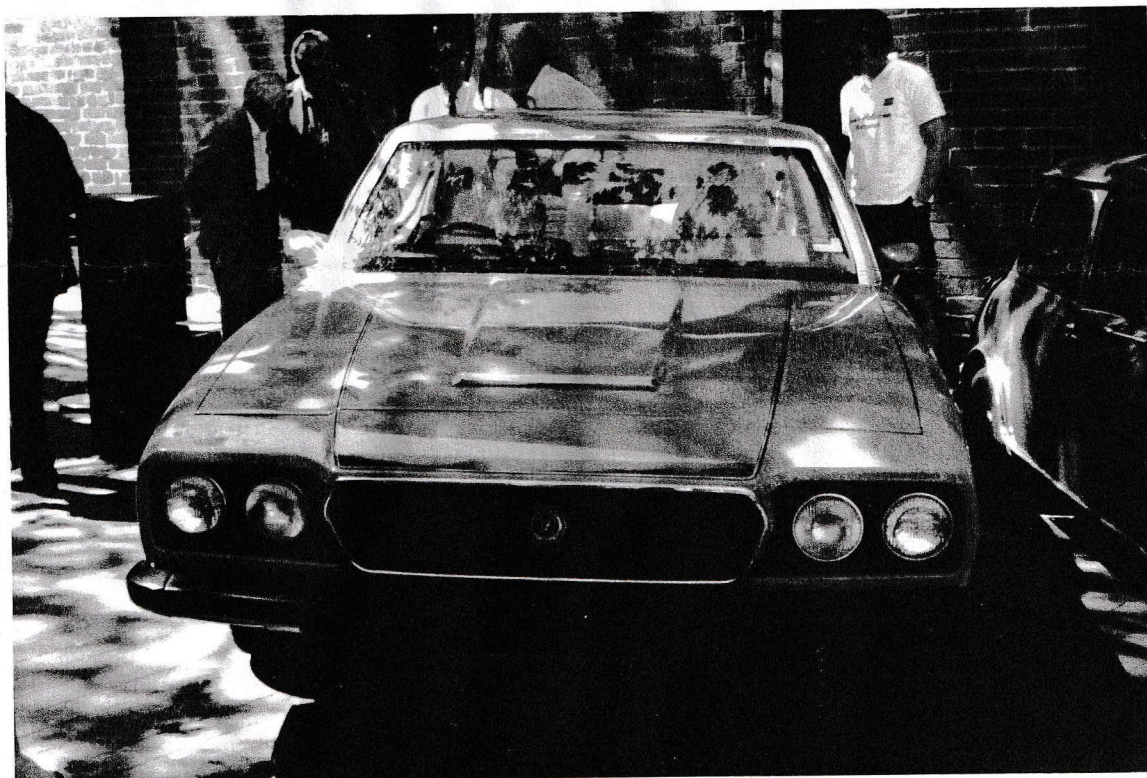

On Saturday 6th October 2007 I was watching the top ten shoot out and also the Fujitsu V8 Super car races at Bathurst and one of the races at Mt Panorama was won by Luke Youlden and his car number was (you guessed it) 76, that's great.

See you at our next meeting.

Orange Blossom Festival & BMC Heritage Group Reunion

By Joe Green

Our outing to the Orange Blossom Festival was next. The weather was great and the selection of mixed cars was varied and most interesting. Jason Birmingham's immaculate Hairy Lime P76 created a great deal of attention by the crowd and also the other car enthusiasts.

I was parked beside a chap who had an immaculate 1937 Graham Bros sedan on display. He had done a ground up restoration of this car and it had been carried out in such a professional manner. It was admired by all. Also near to our display, I met another car buff who was into Fords, he had on display a very rare 2 door 1954 Star Model Coupe, painted blue and white, it was outstanding. After chatting to him for some time he revealed to us he has a large collection of rare Fords, including as rare GT HO Phase 3 Ford, quite a valuable collection.

Now, onto the BMC Leyland Heritage Groups Reunion and luncheon day at Lowenbrau Keller Restaurant at the Rocks in Sydney. When Sue and I arrived at about 10:30am there was a display of three cars on the cobblestone courtyard area in front of the Keller Bar.

Richard Williams green Force 7V, a blue mini Cooper S and a red Austin Healy (I do not know the names of the owners of the mini and the Healy). They looked fantastic and created much attention from the public.

We then proceeded upstairs to the restaurant where we were greeted by Kay and Tony De Luca. Kay organised the day and was also the M.C. (other members of the Heritage group assisted her, I did not know their names).

At 12:30 the lunch was served and the meal was great. Kay then introduced Barry Anderson and he gave us a short speech and Roger Foy gave a vote of thanks to the owners of the display vehicles.

Then Kay introduced the guest speaker Warrewyk Williams who gave a very interesting talk about his involvement with the P76's and some of his experiences, he also had a visual slide show. His talk was very interesting and informative. Warrewyk also donated a Fuji digital camera to be raffled.

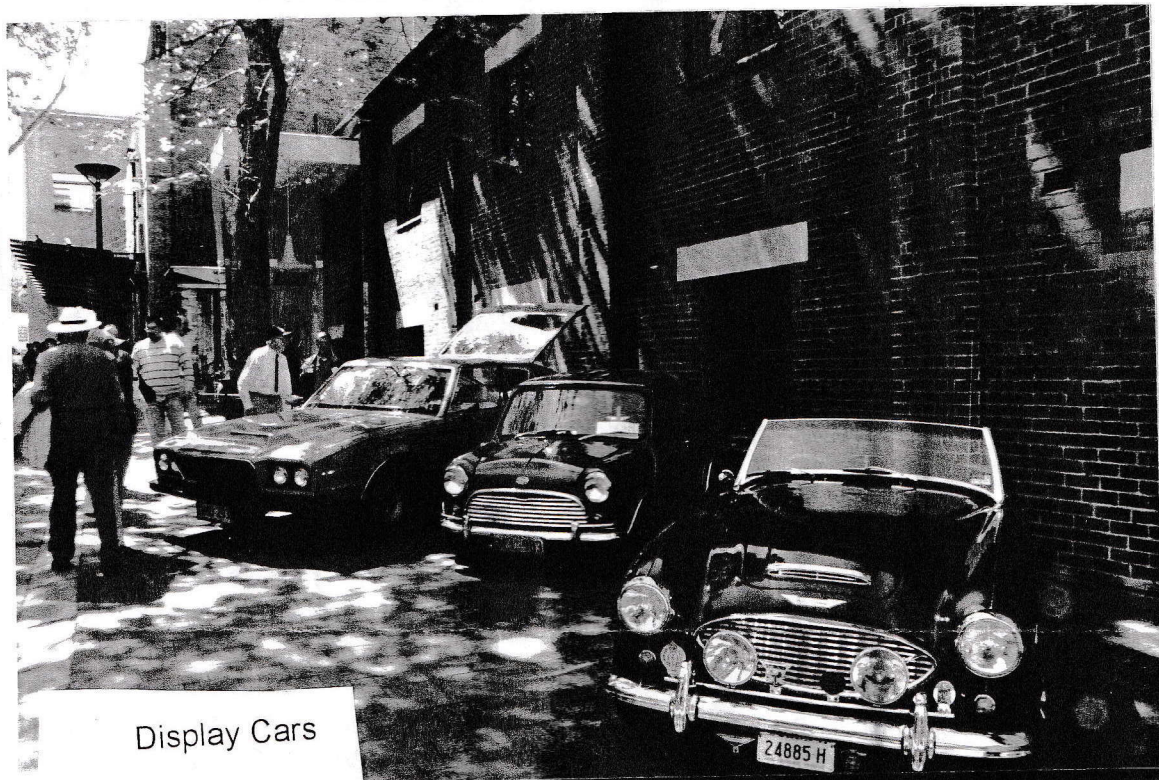

After he completed his talk Kay gave thanks to the Lowenbrau Keller for their hospitality, to Warrewyk for the camera, to Matilda Cruises for the gift vouchers and to all those who gave talks and assisted on the day.

We then just mixed amongst the crowd and it was very interesting to talk to some of the ex Leyland employees about their experiences that they had when working for the company.

It was also good to catch up with some of the Queensland P76 club members, namely Adrian Spencer and Neville Humphries. Anyhow, Sue and I, after an enjoyable day left the venue at about 4:30pm.

Congratulations to Kay De Luca and her committee for organising a great day.
