PRESIDENT'S RAMBLINGS

Hi all, we are back home now and getting on with life at the home front. Catching up on medical appointments, dentists and the like. We had ordered new window treatments (plantation shutters) for our bedrooms prior to going away and they arrived just as we were leaving so no time for installation at that time. So, we paid for them and arranged for the install when we got back. Did that, but the guy doing the job got a dose of gastro so that didn't happen. Maybe next week. I had to have some preventative maintenance for sun damage to the back of my hands which meant staying in the dark for 3-4 days as the treatment is light sensitive, so that time was spent on paperwork and planning the next reno project, the laundry.

I had been talking with Charlie Anderson from the NSW Club on various Club stuff and he told me that because of lockdowns etc. their Club had been looking for alternative activities to keep the members interested and out of trouble. Zoom meetings popped up and as well as their general meetings they had a forum type meeting with a guest speaker. The first one went quite well with Will Hagen as the speaker. They had a few minor bugs to sort out and decided to have another one last Friday and extended the invitation to a few members of interstate clubs as well. That's me and I passed it on to a couple of our members.

This meeting had Noel Delforce guest speaker. Noel related stories briefly of his life growing up and then where his real life began at Leyland in the late 1960s. Many anecdotes from the V8 development and working in Experimental. He raced a V8 Marina during this time as well. He had planned to build a Force 7 race car and had ordered aluminium sheeting to be pressed into body panels, door skins, boot and bonnet but Leyland shut up shop before this could happen. He built the motor for the 1974 World Cup Rally car and also for the 1977 London Sydney Marathon Range Rover. Many good stories. The meeting had 27 (I think) attendees and I think another is in the pipeline.

As the weather warms, hurry up please (currently 15° and raining) I have to get out in the shed and continue with the Sherman project. Not sure where I left it but I know the fairies haven't been in the shed while we've been away.

Cheers for now.....Nigel
